Our Famous Lobster Tour and Wendy's Birthday Drive Saturday September 26, 2015

By Debbie Christopher

The morning started out quite chilly but it warmed up enough by noon for top down driving weather for this year's Lobster Tour. We met up at our usual spot, the Stonewall Kitchen, York, ME. After secretly passing around a birthday card for Wendy for everyone to sign, we started the tour with a drive up Mount Agamenticus. We had enough time there to walk around and enjoy the beautiful view. From there we followed a coastal route with lots of great views of the water, ending up at the USS Albacore Museum in Portsmouth NH. We did not have time to take the tour of the submarine but it was interesting just to stand next to it and see what a sub looks like on the outside. I expect some of us will go back and tour the inside since Portsmouth is not that far away. The tour continued on to Brit Bits and then to dinner. I had to leave the tour at the museum so I can't report on the rest but overall I think everyone enjoyed the new route and the stops along the way. We lucked out again this year with the weather. And finally, I want to wish Wendy a very happy birthday!

Ned and Ellen's Fall Tour -- Sunday October 4, 2015

By Debbie Christopher

We had a very enjoyable last drive of the season. We followed the same route as last year but without rally questions so it was more relaxing this time around! The tour began at Kimball Farm in Lancaster, MA around 11am and followed back country roads of north central Massachusetts. After a break at the Dunkin Donuts on Devens we continued on to Kimball Farm in Littleton MA where we had lunch under the big tent and explored the grounds. All in all, a great day out!

Are you looking to unload some Triumph bits and pieces? Are looking to add to your Triumph collection? If you answered "Yes", then check out the "Classifieds" section of the New England Triumphs webpage.
